

At Edmonton's Alex Taylor Elementary School, when celebrating the Chinese New Year, everyone gets a cultural immersion course — including teachers.

Should multiculturalism be part of every province's social-studies curriculum? What else could schools be doing?

Helen Fitzpatrick, Edmonton

MULTICULTURALISM OR _____ ?

A policy of "multiculturalism within a bilingual framework" is the latest approach to the structure and direction of Canadian society. Other policies have been promoted and practised in the past. To put multiculturalism in perspective, it might be useful to review these and also to consider other alternatives. If not multiculturalism, then what?
